

Aztecs and Incas "4 Corners" Review Game

- Capital city was Tenochtitlan → Aztecs
- Used Mathematics → Both
- Francisco Pizarro conquered this civilization → Incas
- Located in Present-day Mexico → Aztecs
- Sacrifices were very rare and only in time of need → Incas
- Polytheistic → Both
- Atahualpa was the emperor during the Spanish conquest → Incas
- Hernán Cortes conquered this civilization → Aztecs
- Located in Mesoamerica → Aztecs
- Conquered by Spanish conquistadors → Both
- Sacrifices were a huge part of their daily lives → Aztecs
- Empire stretched over 2,000 miles long → Incas
- Irrigation systems → Both
- Had an irrigation system, 2 calendars, and advanced mathematics → Aztecs
- Located in western South America → Incas
- Gave Spanish gold in hopes they would leave → Both
- Sierra Madre Mountains are located in this civilization → Aztecs
- Religion was very important → Both
- Used pictures to record information → Aztecs
- Located in present day Colombia, Ecuador, Bolivia, Chile, Argentina, and Peru → Incas
- Used Quipu to record information → Incas
- Diseases killed most of the people, making it easier to conquer the civilization(s) → Both
- Montezuma II was the emperor during Spanish conquest → Aztecs
- Defeated the Spanish at first, however fell after a siege was put into place → Aztecs
- Capital city was Cuzco → Incas
- Located in Latin America → Both
- Had an immense network of roads that spread throughout the empire and runners would relay messages to other parts of the empire → Incas
- Andes Mountains are located in this civilization → Incas
- There was no currency, used bartering to trade goods → Both
- Machu Picchu was an famous site that was discovered in the early 1900s → Incas